PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm a passionate web developer with an interest in front-end web development. I am currently completing my Bachelor's Degree in Full-Stack Web Development at Arizona State University. Over the last four terms, I've maintained a 4.11 GPA with all A+ grades in coursework directly related to my degree.

I had the honor of working at Global Tech for an internship, I gained hands-on experience building responsive, user-friendly websites from the ground up. Working on a real client project, I collaborated with a team to design and implement a site that met professional standards. This experience was unforgettable and strengthened my technical skills and communication skills.
